"Breakfast at the Local Diner"

I love working in themes, and series. Having the 'breakfast' theme was so fun and stretching for me. This concept is all Retro, Diner feeling, with each side having a different bright color scheme and pattern to it so the viewer and the painter both enjoy the thrill of moving on to each new face. I was excited to incorporate the location of the cabinet into the theme of the box as well, and being behind the Perkins I get to paint my favorite subject, food! I understand this is not meant to be an advertisement for the restaurant and I will keep that in mind. I'm hoping the retro-diner feel is enough of a difference
