"On the Move"

On the move is the design theme for the transformer cabinet located at the South Transit Center. Riders on the MAX are on the move as are the local urban dwelling creatures in this design. Deer and rabbits are running across the landscape and we can see from their tracks where they are going and where they've been. Cats are on the prowl following mouse tracks and the mice are cutting out fast! The Poudre River is rushing, the fish are going with the flow, and frogs are leaping into the fray. Wind is stirring the dandelions to go off and sow their seeds while Canadian Geese are cruising among the windblown clouds. Humans too are leaving their footprints as they dance, bike ride, and joyfully play among wind blown leaves. All of us are together in Fort Collins as the earth moves around the sun and comets streak across the night sky. The diagonal elements of the composition and free "scribble" like painting style creates movement within the design.
