

Transformer Cabinet Mural Project 2010
Artist: Lisa Cameron
Location: 2 cabinets on SE corner of Civic Center Park
and 1 cabinet East of Civic Center Park

“Insects We Trust”

Swallow Tail butterflies and Honey Bees dance across these cabinets representing insects which flourish in a healthy garden. Both are a community of insects reflecting a model of human society signifying work ethic, or a life cycle including a form of immortality and resurrection.

“Orange Burst Poppies”

Like the insects included in the first set of cabinets the Swallowtail and Honey Bee, the bright Red Poppy in Greco-Roman myths is symbolism for either sleep or a promise of resurrection. All three of these subjects represent a healthy garden life cycle.
