

Transformer Cabinet Mural Project 2010
Artist: John Moore
Location: Off the SE corner of the County Courthouse

There is just something wonderfully whimsical about a moose. And a moose out of context, such as on the courthouse lawn, can be even more eye catching. It's a bit like a page from the quirky '90s TV show "Northern Exposure."

That is the fun feeling I intend to capture on the courthouse transformer box. The box is just far enough from the sidewalk that it should draw plenty of stares from passers by, and lots of "did I just see a moose?" comments.

Top view of cabinet that will be visible from the courthouse.
