My Design is to use the waterways of Fort Collins as a map of the area we live in. So often, maps are based on the man-made landmarks. This is a 'map' of sorts with the focus being on our water, a precious and important landmark but also an inspiring and life-giving element.

I will start on this project by tracing the waterways of Fort Collins onto the cabinet. I will then paint radiating lines around these waterways in a chromatic rhythm following the color spectrum. The resulting design will be colorful and busy, with the concept and emphasis being on our wonderful water features we are blessed to have here in Fort Collins.
