The Great CHRISTMAS HALL

Join in a Christmas tradition on November 6, 7 and 8, 2009.

Three fabulous days of yuletide merriment await you at the 29th annual Great Christmas Hall, including the festively decorated Hall of Trees and Hall of Holiday Tables and beautiful creations in the Hall of Gifts, where skilled artisans will be displaying their wares in the Columbine and Canyon West rooms of the Lincoln Center.

The Great Christmas Hall is sponsored by the Lincoln Center Support League as a fundraising event for the facility.

Screening Process

Artisans selected for the Hall of Gifts will be chosen through a jurying process.

- Preference will not be given to artisans who have displayed in the past.
- To ensure a quality exhibition, artisans must submit four photographs (no slides or CDs, please) of their work with their application and will be screened according to set guidelines (see Rules of Participation).
- Artisans must also submit a drawing, photograph or written description of their booth, including measurements of any stands or partitions to be used. (This information helps with booth placement.)
- Alternate artisans will be selected for a waiting list to fill vacancies if they occur. Jury decisions are final.

Rules of Participation

We promote quality work by skilled artisans with the following rules:

- All work that is exhibited must be handcrafted by the booth renter and original in concept and design. Items that have been made with the use of commercial kits, molds or pre-fabricated forms are unacceptable and will be prohibited at the show. If an item or display is questionable, removal of such items or displays will be at the discretion of the LCSL.
- Artisans must be represented in their booth the entire time. Artisans are encouraged to demonstrate their craft whenever possible.
- Artisans may share a booth by submitting a joint application with a $10.00 jurying fee per artisan. Artisans will be juried individually.
- Double booths may be available.
- Booth spaces are NOT transferable. No artisan will be allowed to exhibit items without having been through the application process.
- All sales will be conducted between the artist and purchaser. Artisans are responsible for obtaining state and city sales tax permits and for collecting and submitting the appropriate sales tax.

- No food or drink items may be sold except at designated concession sites.
- As a courtesy to others, all electronic devices including television, radio and DVD players, must be equipped with earphones.
- Cancellation Policy: Booth fees of accepted artisans will be refunded minus a $25.00 cancellation fee if notification of cancellation is received in writing by August 31, 2009.
