Restaurants: A Menu of Cost-Saving and Environmental Choices

Tuesday, Oct. 5, 9 a.m.–noon

Save money and ensure a clean restaurant or food service environment by implementing sustainable practices and new technologies.

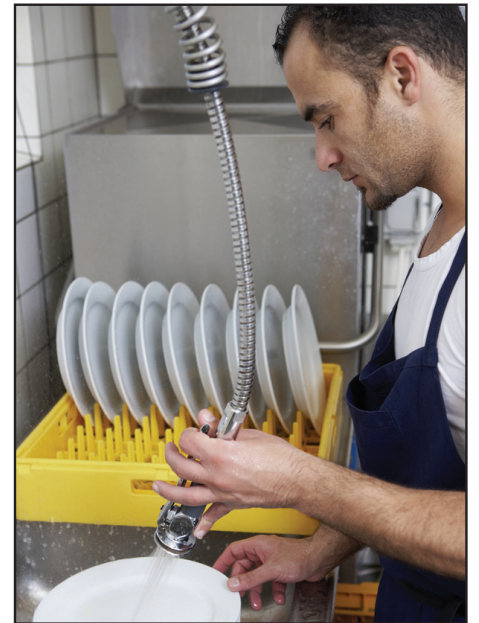

Learn how your restaurant can:

- cut energy and water use through the use of high-efficiency equipment
- reduce trash bills through recycling, packaging alternatives and composting
- improve water quality through proper disposal of fats, oils and grease (FOG) and pressure washing techniques
- utilize City resources, including rebates and incentives from Fort Collins Utilities and free environmental assessments through Climate Wise

Presenters include:

- Henry Mouton, Rio Grande Restaurant
- Vern Smith, Consultant with Fisher-Nickel, Inc.
- Susie Gordon, City of Fort Collins Natural Resources
- Laurie D'Audney, Michelle Finchum, John Phelan, Fort Collins Utilities

For more information, contact Laurie D'Audney at (970) 221-6877 or ldaudney@fcgov.com. Refreshments provided. Please help us make this a zero-waste event.
