Metamorph

This concept is based on the simplicities and complexities of nature. Repetition, pattern, and movement form together, creating a design that sweeps you into a dreamscape of microbiological magic. Inspired by natural systems, my work depicts transformations of various organic and biomorphic forms taken from a microscopic perspective and translated as a macrocosm in physical space. There is a sense of decay and entropy while at the same time growth and abundance. Sit with these patterns and remember the ways we used to see the world as a child- uninhibited and curious.
