- Milton Salamonson
 - Born: December 6th, 1888 Denver, Colorado
 - Died: October 16th, 1918 San Diego, CA
 - Buried: Greenlawn Cemetery, Berthoud, CO
 - Background: He tried farming and did not like it, so he went to Seattle and Alaska to work until called to do service in World War I. While in training in San Diego, CA at Mare Island (or Mars) he contracted pneumonia and died in a naval hospital nearby. He was 19 years old when he died and is buried in the Greenlawn Cemetery, Berthoud, CO surrounded by his parents and siblings. A relative referred to him as "Milt" and listed his first name as Sven; but his headstone in Berthoud reads Swan Milton, so it is not certain what is correct except that maybe his name was pronounced Sven and spelled Swan. He was the second oldest of 6 children (5 boys and 1 girl).
